

Fairtree Mokala Macro SNN QI Hedge Fund

Minimum Disclosure Document - Class 1

31 May 2019

Fund Profile

The Fairtree Mokala Macro SNN QI Hedge Fund is a global macro multi-asset class portfolio. The long-term objective of the portfolio is to achieve superior risk adjusted returns through investment across a diverse set of investment strategies and asset classes. Although the portfolio aims to take advantage of macro economic themes, trends and investment opportunities globally, the majority of the risk is expressed in the South African equity market through an equity relative value strategy. A tactical risk allocation is expressed, from-time -to-time, to the most attractive non-South African, macro economic opportunities on an ad-hoc basis. This tactical allocation is expressed across asset classes in developed markets. The portfolio combines the strategic, South African relative value risk with a tactical, ad-hoc risk allocation to provide optimal diversification benefits.

Investment Strategy

The portfolio will combine a strategic risk allocation framework which provides the optimal diversification benefit across the various strategies, with tactical risk allocation to the most attractive opportunities as identified on a bottom up basis.

*The inception date for the portfolio is 1 June 2015. The historical performance figures until the end of 31 January 2017 reflect performance achieved prior to CISCA regulation. The portfolio has been transitioned under CISCA regulations on 1 February 2017 and has since been managed as a regulated product. The annualized total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period, since date of the launch of the fund. Actual annual figures are available from the manager on request. The highest and lowest 1 year returns represent the highest and lowest actual returns achieved during a 12 month rolling period year since the original launch date of the portfolio. The performance figures given show the yield on a Net Asset value ("NAV") basis. The yield figure is not a forecast. Performance is not guaranteed and investors should not accept it as representing expected future performance. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, time of entry/actual investment date, date of reinvestment, and dividends withholding tax. Performance is calculated for a lump sum investment on a Net Asset Value basis. The performance figures are reported net of fees with income reinvested.

Portfolios are valued monthly. The cut off time for processing investment subscription is 10:00am on the last day of the month prior to enable processing for investment on the first day of the next month.

Total Expense Ratio

A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Market Commentary

May was an extremely tough month. The All Share (-4.8%) aggressively gave back some gains after enjoying the strongest first quarter since 2009. The Rand (-1.7%) also weakened against the US Dollar. Various companies reported during May. Unsurprisingly, most of the results were quite weak, with outlook statements not instilling much confidence either.

The ANC won the national election after receiving just over 57% of the votes. The market was also pleased by President Cyril Ramaphosa's newly announced cabinet. The cabinet's size reduced from 36 to 28 departments with continuity in key roles, for example Tito Mboweni staying on as Minister of Finance. President Ramaphosa also removed some bad apples and included a few young promising candidates. It is definitely not the ideal cabinet, but there is enough to make us hopeful that policies and effective implementation thereof will be much better going forward. Focus now shifts to the President's state of the nation address on 20 June, as well as critical policy issues, starting with Eskom.

Globally the focus is still on the escalating trade war. Ultimately, we believe there will be a short term resolution this year, as Trump would be unwise to trigger an US recession while he is trying to win the US presidential election next year. This, however, does not guarantee an environment without noise and volatility. Global growth is stalling in a big way, with manufacturing PMI's negative in both Europe and China. The US 2 year bond yield dipped below 2% after almost reaching 3% less than a year ago. This means the market is pricing in interest rate cuts to stimulate the US economy.

Despite the iron ore price (+10.9%) continuing to push higher, the JSE Resources sector (-5.3%) sold off. Given the fund's net-long exposure in resources, it suffered some losses in this space. The long positions had mixed performances: African Rainbow Minerals (-3.0%), Exxaro (+7.6%), Glencore (-17.1%) and Impala (+1.3%). Our short hedges in this space, BHP (-2.3%) and Amplats (+1.5%), did not cover the full loss from the names above.

Telkom (+8.2%) reported a decent set of results and held a capital markets day. We continue to believe that the current valuation is unjustified, given the pedestrian growth and lack of free cash generation. Needless to say, they outperformed some of our long positions in the SA income space: Absa (+2.9%), RMI (-4.9%).

Sasol (-22.7%) sold off aggressively after issuing a very disappointing update on their LCCP project. They upgraded their cost estimates by $1bn, after doing the same just 3 months ago. They also downgraded their EBITDA guidance over the short and medium term. The project is now costing >40% more than the initial plan suggested 6 years ago and points to poor execution and understanding from management. The fund incurred losses due to a position in Sasol over Brent crude denominated in Rand.

Given that we are now five months into the year, it is interesting to sit back and have a look at some of the major laggards this year: Mr Price (-18.4%), Netcare (-26.6%), Aspen (-28.8%), Sappi (-30.8%), Massmart (-34.5%), Brait (-42.7%) and Omnia (-48.4%). These names can largely be classified into two categories: companies with high gearing and therefore rights issue concerns, and companies without volume growth and therefore margin pressure given the squeeze of cost inflation. Mr Price does not fit into either of these buckets and we feel this is a quality company that has unfairly sold off. They reported a very credible HEPS growth of 6%, which led to a bounce in their share price of 11% on the last day of the month.

Markets are never boring, with this year certainly shaping up to be another very interesting one. We believe it is important to remain flexible in an environment with so much uncertainty and subsequent volatility.

Collective Investment Schemes are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Collective investments are traded at ruling prices and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. Prices are published monthly on our website and local media.
